

OPERETTA WILL BE PRESENTED HERE THURSDAY

High School Students Will Offer "Jerry of Jericho Road" In Auditorium.

LARGE CAST AND CHORUS READY

"Jerry of Jericho Road," an operetta, will be presented by Gettysburg high school talent in the high school auditorium, Thursday evening. Miss Dorothy Snyder, supervisor of music in the public schools, who has been rehearsing the show for several weeks, today said the cast was ready for the opening curtain.

The scene of the action is Alan O'Day's ranch, where the "wild and woolly" days have been superseded by meek men and their globe-trotting, adventure-seeking wives. In such surroundings two love affairs blossom to run the usual rocky courses with the silver lining shining through at the finale.

Through the show there are tuneful musical numbers and snappy dancing choruses, both of which are expected to go a long way toward furnishing an evening of real entertainment for lovers of operettas.

Miss Josephine Codori will be the leading role in the show, with Howard Williams playing opposite.

Cast and Chorus

Others in the cast and chorus are: Uncle Pete, John Kadel; Allan O'Day, Charles (Chick) Rupp; Mimi, Margaret Waters; Dora, Eleanor Zinn; Cornelius Bean, Donald Swope; Amos Bank, Harold Case; Lettice Bank, Jean Robinson; Sandy Bank, Virginia Mitchell; Hunter, Richard Everhart.

Chorus

Ghost—Charles Swisher, Jacob Bream, Conrad Bridger, Donald Kuhn, John Sharp, John Rice. Tourists—Marion Stoner, Anna Ham, Janet Ott, Ethel Oyler, My Bell, Jessie Applier, Myron Lough, Mahlon Fisco, Robert Pitzer, Kenneth Hull, Fred Basehoar, Dean Bowers, Carl Bubb.

Mail Pilot Is New Member Of Caterpillar Club

Hagerstown, March 25 (AP).—Lost in a dense fog, a mail plane bound from Washington to Richmond, Virginia, crashed near Antietam Station, at the edge of Antietam battlefield, this morning. The pilot, Verne Treat, jumped in his parachute after cutting off his engine and landed unhurt three miles from where the plane was wrecked.

Treat, who was about 75 miles off his course, said he ran out of gas. He telephoned to Richmond that he was unhurt and taking care of the mail.

160 Persons At S. S. Conference

More than 160 persons attended the annual young people's conference of the Adams County Sunday School association at the Gettysburg Methodist Episcopal church, Saturday. Each of the six districts in the county was represented.

Leaders for the conference were the Rev. Edward H. Bonsall, Jr., state young people's superintendent, and Miss LaRue Grove, Dauphin county young people's superintendent.

The program follows: Devotionals, led by the Rev. J. Harold Little; "The Purpose of the Conference," Miss Maude White-leather; personal ideals, "A Story of Jesus' Ideals," the Rev. Mr. Bonsall; "Myself and My Church," Miss Grove; banquet; closing challenges, Miss Grove and the Rev. Mr. Bonsall; friendship circle.

Plans are being made by the conference to send delegates to the state conference at Northumberland in May and to the Toronto conference next August.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS

Two children were born at the Warner hospital, Monday. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Quincy Baird Hershey, Gettysburg, and a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sindinger, New Oxford. Both mothers and their off-spring are reported doing nicely.

WEATHER REPORT

Eastern Pennsylvania: Rain and colder tonight and Wednesday. Probably changing to snow flurries in west and north portions Wednesday.

Twins to Box For Title Tonight

Captain Wilbur McReynolds, the third man in the ring tonight when the Smith twins, Herbert and Harvey, stage their boxing contest for the tissue-paper championship, announced this morning that the bout will be a decision affair.

The boxers, perhaps one of the biggest attractions at the indoor circus in the Eddie Plank Memorial gymnasium, are reported on edge for the mix-up. Those who saw the two youngsters perform several weeks ago are anxiously awaiting the opening gong that will send them into action for their return bout.

There isn't any "stalling" when these youngsters get together and more action will be seen in their bout than in many professional battles.

The Smith twins boxing contest tonight is well worth attending the circus to see in itself.

GIVE PLAY ON APRIL 3, FOR BOYS' BENEFIT

"Laugh That Off" Will Be Staged In Eddie Plank Gymnasium By Local Players.

USE PROCEEDS TO HELP BOYS

In addition to the indoor circus to be staged this evening for the benefit of the boys' work activities of the Rotary and Lions clubs, Gettysburg's two service organizations are sponsoring a home talent farce comedy to be presented at the Eddie Plank Memorial gymnasium, Thursday evening, April 3. The Gettysburg dramatic club is in charge of the show.

Tickets for the show will be on sale at the indoor circus.

Dr. Richard A. Arms has recruited talent from the Gettysburg dramatic club, the Owl and Nightingale dramatic club and Biglerville for the farce comedy "Laugh That Off," which several years ago was a decided hit on Broadway. The cast has been rehearsing for ten days and is making splendid progress.

The play is full of comedy and human interest and has an appeal for everybody. Miss Caroline Cole, Biglerville, has been chosen for the leading feminine character. She has starred in several performances in the upper county town under the tutelage of Miss Jessica Weaver, of Gettysburg, a teacher in the Biglerville high school.

Miss Mary Ramer, who has convulsed local audiences by her characterizations in previous shows, and Miss Elizabeth Stallsmith, Gettysburg, also have parts in the play. Miss Stallsmith, who has been seen on the legitimate stage, will play the part of a vaudeville actress in the coming production.

Fred G. Pfeffer and G. N. Waters, both laugh-provoking performers from the Gettysburg dramatic club, whose antics in other shows are well-known to local theater-goers, have leading parts, with Leonard Bryant, Gettysburg college's "funny man," and Fred Goss, also of college, also in the cast.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS

A special meeting of the Gettysburg school board for the election of teachers for 1930-31 will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the high school.

Youths Free on Town's Streets, But Men Must Have an Alibi

Willacoochee, Ga., March 25 (AP).—The city council has decreed that young people may return to their homes after midnight, but grown men must furnish the city marshal a satisfactory reason if caught on Willacoochee's streets during early morning hours.

Also, the ordinance makes it unlawful for any person to be loitering about the city's streets without giving a good reason. No person shall enter any house after midnight, "other than their most usual place of abode," without giving a good explanation.

Although permitting girls and young men who leave earlier in the evening to return home after midnight, the ordinance says it is unlawful for "any person to go out riding after midnight and until daylight or for any male person to carry or go driving with any woman or girl between these hours unless the party or parties can give a good and sufficient reason to the marshal on duty. This ordinance is not, however, meant to construe that young people who may go away early in the evening cannot come home after midnight so long as they are orderly."

Persons found guilty of violating the new ordinances are subject to a fine of $100 or thirty days' labor on the city streets or both, according to the mayor's discretion.

COMPLICATIONS ARE FATAL TO HARRY G. ORNER

Bendersville Resident Succumbs After Lingering Illness, Monday Evening.

FINAL RITES ON THURSDAY

Harry G. Orner, proprietor of the Bendersville garage, died at his home at 7:15 o'clock, Monday evening, after a lingering illness. Complications were given as the cause of death. He was 51 years of age.

Mr. Orner was born on a farm in Menallen township and farmed for a number of years before entering the butchering business. He was associated for many years with the late John W. Bucher, who was killed in an automobile accident near Carlisle, some time ago. In 1917 Mr. Orner built the Bendersville garage which he operated and managed until failing health compelled him to relinquish his duties and retire. The business has been managed by a son, Lloyd J. Orner.

The deceased was a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, the P. O. S. of A., No. 370, of Bendersville. He was chief of the Bendersville fire company for many years and president of the borough council until the first of the year.

Leaves 8 Children

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Frances J. Orner, and the following children, Lloyd J., of Bendersville; Clyde P. Orner, of Gettysburg; Mrs. G. Marlin Pfeffer, of Harrisburg, and Dale, Helen, Emerson, Robert and Dorothy, at home. Four sisters also survive. They are Mrs. Elmina Funt, of Biglerville; Mrs. Kate Deardorff, of Gardners; Mrs. Ida Cooper, of Bendersville, and Mrs. Sallie E. Heller, of Gettysburg. One grandchild also survives.

Funeral services Thursday, meeting at the home at 9:30 o'clock with further services in the Bethlehem Lutheran church, with interment in the cemetery adjoining, the Rev. O. D. Coble and the Rev. Ira Trostel officiating.

Mrs. Minnie Hinkle

Mrs. Minnie Lomina Hinkle, 44, wife of Benjamin D. Hinkle, Fourth street, died at 4 o'clock this morning at her home. Bright's disease was given as the cause of death. She had been ill for eighteen months.

Mrs. Hinkle was the adopted daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lafferty, of Idaville.

The deceased is survived by her husband and eight daughters: Mrs. Jacob Rinehart, Miss Mildred A. Hinkle, Mrs. Edna Miller, Miss Mary K. Hinkle, Miss Dorothy A. Hinkle, Miss Josephine M. Hinkle and Betty Jane Hinkle, all at home, and Miss Charlotte M. Hinkle, Springs avenue. One son, Edward A. Hinkle, at home, also survives.

She was a lifelong member of the U. B. church. Brief funeral services Friday afternoon at one o'clock from the Bender funeral home, with conducting services in the Mt. Taber U. B. church, the Rev. A. C. Crone officiating, with burial in the cemetery adjoining the church.

Lancaster Alumni To Hear 2 Local Speakers Tonight

Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of the college, and Charles W. Beacham, alumni secretary, will be the principal speakers at the banquet-meeting of the Gettysburg college alumni club, of Lancaster city and county, at the Hotel Brunswick, Lancaster, tonight. August H. Feltenbaum, formerly of Gettysburg, is president of the club.

Injured Youth Leaves Hospital

Donald McClell, Emmitsburg, injured when an automobile in which he was riding upset on a curve in Emmitsburg, late Saturday night, was discharged as a patient from the hospital today. He suffered minor cuts and bruises, but no bones were broken.

McClell was one of three youths in a car, driven by Frank Orndorff, Emmitsburg. The other youth was "Mac" Ashbaugh, also of Emmitsburg. Orndorff is said to have lost control of the car on a curve and it upset.

The driver and Ashbaugh suffered minor lacerations and bruises.

Millions Lost in Hoboken Harbor Fire

Scenes showing fire which wrecked the upper waterfront at Hoboken, N. J., and raged for a night and a day before being brought under control. Two piers of the Lamport and Holt line were completely ruined and a great quantity of merchandise was destroyed. Damage was estimated at between $3,500,000 and $4,000,000.

Peter Pan Players Perform Thursday

Biglerville dramatic fans are promised a treat on Thursday when the Peter Pan Dramatic club for the benefit of the senior class.

An entirely new stage arrangement has been planned by the state managers. This is the first time for a school production that the new velvet fire proof curtains will be used.

Action in the play includes hysterical scenes, fist fights, gate jumping and lunatic impersonations. Added to this are eleven adaptations from the musical comedy, "Queen High" which contains the same plot as "A Pair of Sixes."

Novel features and special acts are announced. Proceeds will be used to defray expenses of the annual senior class trip to Washington.

Grandmother Of Local Woman Dies

Mrs. Mary Trone, wife of Charles L. Trone, Hanover, and grandmother of Mrs. Setrling Peters, Gettysburg, died Sunday at 2:25 a. m., following an illness of ten weeks. Death was due to a complication of diseases. She was 80 years of age.

She was a daughter of the late Peter and Elizabeth (Wentz) Swartz, of York. Surviving are her husband; two daughters and three sons, Mrs. George B. Wentz, Mrs. Harvey F. Lillich, C. J. Trone, W. S. Trone, Mark E. Trone, Hanover; one sister, Mrs. A. E. Rieker, York; ten grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Trone celebrated their 59th wedding anniversary on March 9.

Funeral services this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the late residence, the Rev. Harry Hursh Beidelman, pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran church, Hanover, officiating. Interment in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Expect Shipment Of 15,000 Quail

Charles A. Hillier, in charge of propagation for the game commission, announced today that shipping instructions for 15,000 quail have been sent to shippers in Texas, and that some of the birds should begin arriving the last week in March.

Game protectors residing in counties bordering neighboring states have received a number of leg bands which will be put on all quail released in their sections, and the sportsmen in the adjoining states are being asked to cooperate with the game commission in that if they happen to kill any banded birds, that the bands be removed and returned to this office, so that it can be determined whether the quail are moving into adjoining states, and if so to what extent.

"Budgeting Our Time and Money" was the topic for discussion at the meeting of the Gettysburg Mothers' club held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Kenderton J. Lynch, Lincoln Way west, with Mrs. C. N. Gitt and Mrs. Ernest Ziegler as associate hostesses.

In response to the roll call each member told of some labor-saving device or gave a favorite recipe.

REPORT NUNS ARE ISOLATED

Emmitsburg Sisters Of Charity Said To Be In Danger At Hands Of Bandits.

Shanghai, March 25 (AP).—Almost nation-wide telegraphic investigations during the past twelve hours have disclosed that sixteen American Catholic missionaries, ten men and six women, are at Kanchow, Kiangsi province, isolated from the outside world and unable to come to coastal cities to obtain safety due to the depredations of uncounted hordes of Chinese bandits and Communists.

The six women missionaries are believed to be members of the order of the Sisters of Charity, from Emmitsburg, early reports of their peril having been previously reported in dispatches from China and Washington.

The nuns are from the mother house at St. Joseph's college, Emmitsburg.

Early reports said that the city had been surrounded by Chinese bandits and Communists and that they were in great danger. Later it was reported that the Sisters of Charity were not in immediate danger and that some semblance of order had been restored.

Today's dispatch reveals further trouble and efforts to assist the Catholic Sisters have been futile. Further details were not available because of lack of telegraphic communication in the Communist-infested area.

Three File For Political Post

D. Calvin Rudisill, near Littlestown, and Edward L. Weikert, of Gettysburg, both former representatives, have filed petitions for the Democratic nomination for assemblyman from Adams county.

Harry C. Stock, New Oxford, Republican, has filed for nomination by that party. He is a former assemblyman. Representative George D. Sheely, of New Oxford, former Postmaster E. B. Collins, of Littlestown, and Elus Orner, of Gettysburg, are also candidates for the Republican nomination.

Car Upsets On Lincoln Highway

A sedan-type automobile, registered in the name of Lizzie Hershey, Lititz, was found overturned on the Lincoln Highway, near The Oaks refreshment stand, east of here, early Monday morning. State highway motor patrolmen, who investigated, said the car was apparently traveling east, when it ran to the left side of the road, then cut across to the right side where it upset on the highway.

Patrolman said that so far as they have learned no one was injured. The machine was towed to a local garage, and on Monday afternoon it was towed to Lancaster.

2 MORE BONDS ARE APPROVED

Thirteen Collectors Expected To Submit Bonds To Court Next Saturday.

Tax collectors' bonds of Paul Ginter, Mt. Pleasant township, and Luther Thomas, Conewago township, were approved by Judge D. P. McPherson in court, Monday afternoon. A total of nineteen out of 32 bonds were approved by the court, Monday.

The remainder of the bonds will probably be presented for approval next Saturday.

Russell Axton and Charles Bowser, both of Kittanning, and Robert Jamison and George W. Smith, both of Baltimore, arrested several weeks ago on charges of breaking, entering and larceny in connection with entry of several cottages at Caledonia, were before the court, Monday afternoon, but Judge McPherson sent them back to jail after hearing pleas for probation on behalf of Axton and Bowser. The quartet will be brought before the court next Saturday for final disposition of their cases. Pleas of guilty have been entered.

FORNEY HOST TO BUS MEN

State Association In Session Today; Guests At Dinner At Graeffenburg Inn.

YOUTH IS HELD IN JAIL HERE; CHARGE FRAUD

Leroy Warren, 17, Of Biglerville, Accused Of Tampering With Rented Automobile.

SAY HE CHANGED SPEEDOMETER

Leroy Warren, 17, of Biglerville, was re-committed to the Adams county jail this morning after a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace John C. Shealer on a charge of fraud. Warren was arrested Monday evening by state police and committed to jail in default of $300 bail.

The charge grew out of the alleged tampering by Warren with the speedometer of a car, rented last Saturday from the Drive-it-yourself service, center square. The machine was returned Monday, with 65 miles recorded on the speedometer, but Rufus B. Weaver, proprietor of the Drive-it-yourself service, said the machine had been run approximately 400 miles over the week-end.

Warren refused to testify at the hearing, but Eugene Roth, Gettysburg, the Biglerville youth's alleged companion over the week-end, gave Justice Shealer the following itinerary:

Alleged Itinerary
Gettysburg to Biglerville, to Arendtsville, to Biglerville, to Gettysburg, to Hanover, to Bendersville, to Hanover, to Gettysburg, to York, to Harrisburg, to Biglerville, to Hanover, to Baltimore, to Westminster, to Gettysburg, to Biglerville and back to Gettysburg.

According to testimony at the hearing, Warren and Roth met two girls in Hanover, Saturday night, and took them for the greater part of the trip. The names of the girls were not disclosed.

Warren posted $10 with Weaver when he rented the machine, and the deposit covered the distance shown on the speedometer. Weaver said the additional fee for the use of the car would be about $60.

Entertains Friends On 84th Birthday

Mrs. Theodore McAllister entertained a few friends at her home on East High street last Saturday afternoon in honor of her eighty-fourth birthday anniversary.

One of the interesting features of the entertainment was the "I Remember Hour" during which each person present told of the earliest event in her life which she remembers.

Those present during the afternoon were Mrs. B. G. Black, Mrs. Virginia Horner, Mrs. Maria Harsh, Miss Julia Stammers, Mrs. W. W. Boyer, Mrs. W. A. Bigham, Mrs. Hugh McIlhenny, Mrs. Charles Coe and Miss Mary McAllister, the latter of Lansdowne.

Many other friends called at the McAllister home during the day to extend their felicitations upon the anniversary occasion.

SENATE PASSES TARIFF BILL ON MONDAY, 53 TO 31

Washington, March 25 (AP).—The Senate Monday passed the tariff bill carrying the highest protection ever given agricultural products and virtually providing a general revision of the industrial rates.

The vote on final passage was 53 to 31.

The bill now goes back to the House. From there it is expected to be sent to conference between the two houses for the ironing out of the manifold differences.

It was just ten months ago this week that the House approved the bill and sent it to the Senate for the tempestuous legislative journey.

Seven Democrats voted for forty-six Republicans for the measure. It was opposed by five Republicans and twenty-six Democrats.

EUROPA BREAKS OCEAN RECORD

New York, March 25 (AP)—A new speed queen of the seas was enthroned today when the North German Lloyd liner Europa, on her maiden voyage, wrested the crown from her sister ship the Bremen.

The 51,000-ton racing greyhound passed Ambrose lightship, the crossing tape, at 5:54 a. m. today making the 3,100 mile crossing from Cherbourg, France, in four days, 17 hours and 6 minutes.

She bettered by 18 minutes the record established last October by the Bremen which on that occasion bettered by eighteen minutes the time of her maiden voyage last July when she dethroned the long reigning Cunarder Mauretania.

The voyage of the Europa was made under more difficult weather conditions than those favored by the Bremen on her record breaking run. Throughout the voyage she was buffeted by strong head winds and heavy seas.

The Europa has an overall length of 936 feet and a breadth of 101 feet. She has accommodations for 2,200 passengers and a crew of 975.

BALTIMORE TUG IS SUNK WHEN RAMMED IN FOG

Baltimore, March 25 (AP)—The captain and eight members of the crew of the tug Mary Clare were saved today when their craft was rammed and sunk by the steamer Calvert in a heavy fog which blanketed the Baltimore harbor and put a virtual halt to shipping in Chesapeake Bay.

The Calvert and the tug were proceeding at slow speed when the steamer crashed broadside into the smaller vessel throwing the engineer of the tug into his engine and injuring him. The Mary Clare clung to the bow of the Calvert until the larger ship pulled away and then sank almost immediately.

DARBY MAN IS SHOT TO DEATH ON HOME PORCH

Philadelphia, March 25.—Austin Wilmore, his wife, and their 3-year-old daughter, Virginia, sat down to dinner at 6:30 Monday night in their home at 513 Fern street, Darby. They had just started eating when the front doorbell rang. Wilmore, whose chair was nearest the front door, arose and walked from the room to answer it.

A few seconds later Mrs. Wilmore heard a shot. Running to the front door, she found her husband lying dead on the floor of the enclosed porch. A single shot from a 38-caliber revolver had pierced his heart.

There was no trace of the slayer. After firing the shot he fled, closing the door of the porch behind him. Although the Wilmore residence is one of a row of houses, none of their neighbors heard the shot and none saw anyone fleeing from the scene.

ROAD OILING OPENS APRIL 15

More Than 5,000,000 Gallons Will Be Poured On State Highways This Year.

Surface treatment of state highways, more familiarly known as "oil-ing", will get under way April 15. Chief Engineer Samuel Eckels of the Pennsylvania department of highways announced. The work will require three grades of bituminous material in quantities totaling more than 5,000,000 gallons.

Spring inspection of the roads by maintenance engineers is nearing completion. Eckels said, reports indicating that roads survived the severe weather with only normal break-up due to frost action and excess moisture. Unusual quantities of snow in many sections of the state acted as protecting agents, minimizing the damage.

The schedule for surface treatment calls for completion within 60 days, but this is a maximum estimate. With favorable weather and a minimum of rainfall the forces may be able to cut this to 45 days, Eckels said. Early completion will be urged in each district in order to meet the touring season with clear roads.

Half Of Road Open As in other years, oiling will be done in staggered strips, leaving half the roadway to motorists. The second half will be treated a day later, giving the oil a day to bind properly and resulting in a minimum of "pick-up" as cars pass over the road.

A popular practice adopted last season by maintenance forces was the posting of warning signs on a section of road more than a week in advance of the treatment. One sign bears the legend "Road to be oiled within next week." Another sign marks "End of proposed oiling."

Local residents are thus enabled to plan necessary traveling in advance, if they desire, and avoid the road immediately after the oiling is done, for several days. The signs proved popular and many letters of commendation were received.

Sixteen State Commissions Study Issues for Legislators

General Edward Martin, state treasurer, today called attention to the fact that sixteen temporary commissions are making studies of propositions submitted to them by the state legislature. These commissions have a membership of near 160. All must report progress to the legislature which convenes next January, but a number will be continued beyond that time.

Having a membership of twenty-four, the commission to consolidate municipalities is authorized to study the merger of cities, boroughs and townships of counties of the second class—and Allegheny is the one county in this class. The commission was created by the legislature in 1923 and continued in 1925, 1927 and 1929, and must report to the governor and General Assembly in 1931.

Fifteen members of the commission for the celebration of the 200th anniversary of the birth of George Washington are formulating a program for an observance scheduled for February 22, 1932. This commission was created in 1925, but so far has made no announcement of its plans.

The election law commission, comprising nine members, was authorized in 1927 and has been directed to submit to the 1931 legislature a complete codification and revision of the election laws, with suggestions as to improvements.

The sum of $50,000 was appropriated in 1927 to the colored soldiers' memorial commission, for the erection of a memorial to Pennsylvania's colored soldiers. The monument will be placed in Philadelphia and after erection will be maintained by the Pennsylvania historical commission.

The object of the Old Portage railroad commission, authorized in 1927, was "to prepare and construct a suitable model of the winding engines and inclined planes of the Portage railroad," which connected Hollidaysburg and Summit, Cambria county, in canal days, or "some other suitable memorial thereof."

The commission last fall erected a memorial on the William Penn highway, east of Summit, near an ancient structure known as the "skew" bridge.

Created in 1929, the appellate courthouse commission is negotiating with Philadelphia authorities with a view to having the city donate a plot of ground upon which the commonwealth may erect a building to be used by the supreme and superior courts. These courts now hold sessions in Philadelphia city hall, where offices of the judges and court attaches are also located.

Penn's Landing The Penn landing commission, also created in 1929, is investigating the propriety of holding a celebration sometime during 1932 to mark the 250th anniversary of the landing of William Penn, and will make a detailed report to the next legislature. It has an appropriation of $1500.

Furnished with an appropriation of $10,000, the school financing commission since 1929 has been studying school finances and related matters, and will report its recommendations to the 1931 legislature.

The commission on penal institutions has five members. It is studying methods of administration at all penal places, the advisability of making Rockview and the Western Penitentiary separately governed institutions, and the feasibility of constructing district or central prisons or workhouses for prisoners now confined in county or city prisons. It will report in 1931.

Investigation and examination of schools for the blind and deaf are occupying the time of members of the commission created in 1929 for that purpose. It is particularly interested in the indebtedness, if any, of the commission.

ARBOR, BIRD DAYS ARE SET

County Schools Usually Observe Days With Appropriate Programs.

By official proclamation, Governor Fisher has designated Friday, April 11, and Friday, April 25, as Spring Arbor and Bird days.

County schools usually observe these days with appropriate programs.

The proclamation, calling for observance of the days in every school in the commonwealth, reads in part as follows:

"Trees minister to our daily needs in many different ways. They provide us with shade and shelter; they adorn our home grounds, highways and hillsides; they yield nut and fruit crops in abundance; they supply medicine and promote the health of our people. Trees collectively form the great forests which supply the necessary wood for the development of our industries, and the building and maintenance of our great systems of transportation and communication. Forest products are said to enter our daily lives in more than four thousand different forms. Forested mountains are the source and protection of well regulated streams. The scenic beauty and varied charm of our woodlands attract our people and invite them to enjoy the advantages of our great natural playgrounds.

"Trees furnish for our principal insectivorous birds their nesting places. Birds are essential to tree life and agriculture; their plumage and song make life sweeter and pleasanter; they contribute in many ways to the welfare of mankind.

"I, therefore, commend to our citizens, and especially to the school children for whom the observance of Arbor and Bird Day was primarily instituted, a constructive consideration of our forest and bird situation. I shall be pleased to know that every school in Pennsylvania, during the coming Spring Arbor and Bird Day observance, has participated in the planting of trees, and performed some definite service for the promotion of bird life."

ANNUAL REUNION TO BE HELD JULY 10

Hagerstown—The annual Presbyterian Reunion will be held at Pen Mar on July 10. The date is earlier than usual and has been selected so that this day will come before so many people leave for their vacations.

While the Western Maryland railroad no longer operates the park, trolley cars and buses will be convenient from various points and private cars will be driven by many.

BREAKS LEG WHILE CRANKING AUTO

Hagerstown—Ralph Williams, Mulberry avenue bus driver, met with a most unusual accident at his home in Roxbury on Saturday night. When the self-starter of his car failed to work, he attempted to crank the machine. The engine, which he was spinning, gave a powerful kick and threw him bodily several feet from the vehicle. His leg was doubled beneath him and was broken. He had the fractured member set at the local hospital Sunday morning and then returned to his home to recover.

BOY LOSES $127 IN SEVER CATCH BASIN

York—After leaving the Eastern National bank with $138 in his pocket, Raymond Good, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Good, proprietor of a grocery store at Wallace and Franklin streets, lost the money in a sewer catch basin at the corner of Franklin and Philadelphia streets, Saturday morning. The boy's mother had sent him to the bank with a number of checks to be cashed. An employee of the city highway department went to work and recovered $6 in the basin, while $5 was found on the street.

AUDITOR IN HOSPITAL

Waynesboro—A. L. Baker, of Waynesboro, a member of the board of county auditors entered the hospital at Chambersburg for an operation and treatment. He probably will be there the greater part of a week. With other members of the board, he has just completed the annual audit of the county books.

NEW GARAGE

Waynesboro—Frank Gilbert is erecting a three-car garage in the rear of his apartment, corner Third and Church streets. Mr. Gilbert proposes converting the first floor of the building on South Church street, now used as a garage, into an apartment this spring.

SUED BY WIFE

Waynesboro—Riley Laughlin, of near Guilters, was committed to jail in default of bail, after pleading guilty to charges of assault and battery and desertion and non-support, preferred by his wife, Mary Brechbill Laughlin. He appeared before Magistrate W. W. McKinnie in Greencastle.

WOMAN DIES OF BURNS

Chambersburg—Mrs. Edward Geyer, of Freestone died Saturday morning at 12:35 at the Chambersburg hospital as the result of burns, received last Friday when her clothing caught fire from a bonfire of leaves.

She was aged 51 years and is survived by her husband and one brother, Frank Kirkpatrick of Willow Hill. Funeral services were held in the Presbyterian church at Spring Run at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning.

NO CLUES TO ROBBERY

Chambersburg—Police are without clues as to the identity of the thief who broke into and mobbed the gasoline station at Coldbrook avenue and Lincoln Way. A watch valued at $10, a dozen cigars and several packs of cigarettes were taken. The watch belonged to Robert Mundorff of East Washington street, an employee. Entrance to the station was gained through a window in the wash-room.

condition and equipment of Pennsylvania institution for the instruction of the blind, the Western Pennsylvania school for the blind, and the Western Pennsylvania school for the deaf. Its appropriation is $1000.

The object of the commission to study printing laws and requirements of the commonwealth is what the name implies. It has an appropriation of $1000.

Study Finances "Ways and means of financing the commonwealth in the future" are being studied by the joint legislative committee on finances, created in 1929, and directed to report in 1931.

Fifteen thousand dollars was appropriated to meet the expenses of the commission to revise township laws, created in 1929. It is directed to report in 1931, submitting separate codes covering the laws of the several classes of townships.

Three interstate commissions are in existence—that to provide for joint acquisition of Delaware river bridges between Pennsylvania and New York, another for bridges between Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and the Delaware river bridge commission, having jurisdiction over the bridge connecting Philadelphia and Camden.

On Monday night Millard F.
Troxell, the successful competitor for the Graeff prize for the best essay by members of the senior class, read his essay in the presence of a good audience in Christ church. The subject assigned this year was "Goldsmith's Deserted Village." The essay was a thoughtful analysis of the poet's genial style and of the "Deserted Village" specially, evincing a full grasp of the poem and a discriminating criticism of its merits. The music by a select choir under the leadership of Miss Fahnestock was of a higher grade than usual on these occasions, and contributed much to the evening's entertainment.

DRY DEMOCRATS WANT PINCHOT ON STATE SLATE

Harrisburg, March 25 (AP)— Sentiment, persistent though slight, favoring the slating of Gifford Pin-chot for the Democratic nomination for governor, was heard here Monday at the opening of the luncheon of the Democratic state executive committee to endorse candidates for governor and lieutenant governor.
Pinchot's name was heard mostly from "dry" delegates who said they believed their party would have a better chance of winning the governorship at the general election by picking Pinchot than a democrat.
Party stickers were opposed to such a move because the former governor while an independent is a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. Others claimed slating of Pinchot would constitute a breach of faith with the party organization which supported Alfred E. Smith for the presidency in 1928.

For the lieutenant governorship, Guy K. Baird, Lancaster, appeared to have the inside track. W. C.
Bambrick, of Chambersburg, refused to run for that office after he had slated at the meeting here several weeks ago.

Field museum at Chicago received 1,168,430 visitors last year.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEWS ADAMS

ROOMS—AND ROOMS

ROOMS have great influence. As we go into them, they come into us.
Some rooms, because of the touches of love and beauty which human hands have put upon the walls or floors, or stationed here and there, extend an immediate and happy welcome.

It doesn't take an expenditure of much money to make a room beautiful. I have walked into the rooms of simple homes and felt inspired far more than by the elegance and luxury of a rich home.

Rooms are the reflections of some heart.
The greatest thing you can put into a room is your spirit. There may be no pictures, no outstanding furnishings, but with your thoughts you may paper the walls with fantasies or roses—you may carpet the floor with the richest fabrics of imagination. And if you lift the shades of the windows the gold of God's sun will enter.

I recently read a little book that lies near my typewriter, this lovely thought: "When you first go into a room make it instantly a shrine, for if you live there it is well that you live with nothing ugly."

I have entered many a room in hotels, far from home and those I loved, and been depressed by the atmosphere of loneliness. But as my mind hung upon the walls picture after picture from those that have given me so much pleasure over the years, and as I pulled up this chair and that one and talked with loved ones whom I fancied were thinking of me at that time, my room became a shrine—and I turned out the lights and went to sleep full of happy remembrances.

You never need to be alone or lonely. It is only as we grow selfish that we are.

Read Thoreau and you will learn of a man who lived alone in one or two rooms but who drank daily from a thousand cups of beauty.

Little Jack Rabbit

By David Cory

How do you, do you do?
I hope you're feeling fit and fine,
And that you haven't come to dine,
For there is nothing here to eat Except a little wrinkled beet,"

all of a sudden crowed a well known voice as Uncle Lucky and his bunny nephew stopped the Luckymobile before a tiny house.

"Well, I'll be jiggered!" exclaimed the old gentleman rabbit, recognizing the Old Red Rooster on the front porch. "I didn't know that you lived here, you rusty, dusty Chante-cleer!"

"It's about time for spring cleaning," suggested the old fowl, with a flap of his wings. "Can I have my old job back?"

"Come along," chuckled Uncle Lucky, glad to get the Old Red Rooster once more. Although he was a lazy fowl, Uncle Lucky liked him mighty well. And the Old Red Rooster? Well, I guess he'd rather crow in the old gentleman rabbit's back yard than most any place.

After carefully locking the front door, the old fowl jumped into the Luckymobile. Away it went to the little red shingled house on the corner of Lettuce Avenue and Carrot Street.

"There's lots to do," a little later observed dear Uncle Lucky, as he and the Old Red Rooster walked about, looking here and gazing there, noting what would need repair.

"Yes, there's lots of odds and ends.

MOTHERS now learn value of MAGNESIA

Because it is so helpful in keeping babies and chil-

This harmless, almost tasteless preparation is most effective in relieving those symptoms of babies and children generally caused by souring food in the little digestive tract, such as sour-belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, colic. As a mild laxative, it acts gently, but certainly, to open the little bowels in constipation, colds, children's diseases.

A teaspoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia does the work of half a pint of lime water in neutralizing cow's milk for infant feeding, and preventing hard curds. Its many uses for mother and child are fully explained in the interesting book "Useful Information." It will be sent you, FREE. Write The Phillips
Co., 117 Hudson St., New York, N.

In buying, be sure to get genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesina. Doctors have prescribed it for over 5 years.

EYES

Eyes are different, some can see Leaf and bud on many a tree,
Some discover, here and there,
Tiny little lines of care,
Stamped on faces white and wan
Others never look upon.

Some, whatever they behold,
Merely see its cost in gold.
Theirs are advantageous eyes, Shrewd, and sharp, and cold, and wise,
Seeing only things which may Serve their own concerns some day.

Some have eyes which sweep about Finding little follies out.
They can readily detect Clothes which are not quite correct,
But they never seem to find
Rich endowments of the mind.

From the self-same point of view
Some see more than others do.
What is beautiful to one
Others never look upon.
And I wonder can it be Life is merely what we see.

Any one who tacks and mends
Will find no time to loaf around.

First, the old ax must be ground;
Kindling wood is mighty low,
Little things that I've let go,
The garden rake has lost a tooth,
A leaky shingle in the roof,
The water barrel lacks a hoop,
The step needs nailing to the stoop.
In fact, Old Rooster, I don't know
If you'll have time to even crow!"

chuckled Uncle Lucky in poetry, just like a famous Hoosier Poet.

"How about the garden this year?"
enquired the old fowl.

"Let's take a look," replied Uncle Lucky, and peering over the fence, he gazed at last year's garden, a stubble here, a hummock there, dried, trailing vines and a few leftover, wizened-up turnips.

"I want the sunflowers along the fence as usual," said Uncle Lucky.
"I love their big, bright yellow heads that turn on their tall stalks to follow Mr. Merry Sun on his journey through the skies."

"Soon under the porch roof I'll build a nice nest
To keep my dear birdies warm un-

SUNDOWN STORIES

THE BARNYARD
By Mary Graham Bonner

The Little Black Clock turned the time back to the muggy, muddy spring of the year before, and he led the children to a barnyard where the animals were all walking around enjoying the first breath of springtime.

As the Little Black Clock had plenty

der my breast,
And, as dear Uncle Lucky never charges me rent,
I'll twitter and chirp and be always content."

sang a little bird's voice close at hand.

"Well, well, well! If it isn't tiny Mrs. Sparrow," exclaimed the old gentleman rabbit. "Spring is certainly here when the birds are beginning to nest." And in the next story you shall hear what happened after that.

of magic they were able to understand what the animals said, and he introduced John and Peggy to all of them.

It was the first time the children had ever been introduced to barnyard animals, but they found it most amusing.

"The Honorable Porker Pig," he said, "I want you to meet my good friends John and Peggy."

John and Peggy said how-do-you-do and hello, for they didn't know what else to say.

"Grunt, grunt," said the Honorable Porker Pig.

"You must also meet his eldest son, Squealer Pig," continued the Clock.

"Squeal, squeal," said Squealer Pig.

"Hello," said John.

"Good-morning, Pig," said Peggy.
She hoped that was all right, and it appeared to be, for the son named Squealer Pig twisted his little tail, blinked at her from his tiny eyes, and then wiggled his snout and turned his back.

When he did this she was not quite sure whether she had offended him in any way.

"He is wiggling his snout, hoping you'll give him something to eat," the Little Black Clock said, "and he is turning his back to you hoping that you'll take a nice smooth stick and rub his back for him. He loves that."

John found some pig weed for the pigs and Peggy took a stick and rubbed one back and then another—for all the pigs came up to her for this treat.

And as she did this the other animals came around and the Little Black Clock introduced them.

Real Cigarette Pleasure

WHY BE SATISFIED with less smoking pleasure when for the same price you can have the luxury of Camels?

Camels stand alone. If you merely want to puff, anything will do. But if you want to know the true delight of smoking—to enjoy the mild, mellow fragrance of superbly bleached Domestic and Turkish tobaccos, brought to perfection by the most scientific methods of manufacture but with none of the delicacy of its natural goodness lost or spoiled by over-treatment—then Camel is the cigarette for you.

You'll find in Camels all the exquisite enjoyment that can be packed into a smoke.

Robbers Seize $15,000 Gems

New York, March 25 (AP)—Three robbers held up a jewelry store in Queens borough Saturday and escaped with $150,000 in jewels.

Harry L. Gross, one of the partners of the jewelry firm; A. C. Moss, manager, and Leopold Cohen, an employee, were in the store at the time the robbers entered.

Gross and Moss were handcuffed and forced to lie on the floor and one of the robbers stood guard over Cohen.

JACQUELINE ON HER OWN

by RICHARD STARR

SYNOPSIS: The glamorous road to adventure beckons to Jacqueline Grey, 19-year-old English dress model. She is poor and the adventures she wants are the social pleasures of the wealthy. But the pecuniary rewards of a mannequin at Byrums in London are not great. To make matters worse the revengeful Keswick Dell discharges her from Byrums. Jacqueline's savings dwindle. Jobless, she learns the meaning of hunger. Then one stroke of good fortune that seemed incredible enables Jacqueline to invade the realm of society. Five hundred pounds is left her by an old peddler she befriended. Forgotten was Byrums in the happiness of the moment. Jacqueline planned one grand spree that would end only when her funds evaporated.

Chapter 8

THOSE WHO SIT ABOUT

Two days after Jacqueline's astonishing accession to wealth, there arrived at Byrums' Emporium an enormous cardboard box addressed to the girls of the "Model" room. It was found to contain the most magnificent cake any of them had ever seen. It was in two tiers, iced all over, rich with marzipan and other delicacies.

With the cake was a note:

"My Dear Children:
"Here is the cake I promised you. Eat and be merry, and cerned about the fate of her luggage, which she had abandoned in response to the hall porter's masterly gesture. But she was undaunted.

She stood in the middle of the crimson carpet and waited. The place was by no means thickly populated. It consisted so far as she could see of a desert of crimson carpet surrounded by palms growing in tubs. Under the palms—big settees, big armchairs, tiny tables; men and women sitting about at these as if they had nothing to do but sit about—as if, indeed, sitting about was their chief object in life. Nobody seemed to have anything to do but sit about.

She was beginning to get a lost feeling, when a young man strolled by, stopped and smiled at her. He was amazingly well dressed in tweeds that fitted him like paint. He was good-looking, too, and groomed like a racehorse.

"Are you looking for the reception?" he asked.

Jacqueline returned his smile. "Yes, if you please," she said.

"It's over there, through that alcove arrangement."

"Thank you, ever so much."

She went through the alcove arrangement, and found a pale-faced young man with sleek hair, sitting like the recording angel behind a ponderous book. She gave her name and signed Jacqueline Grey in the big book.

Jacqueline knew how to walk in a tailor-made and showed it.

think of me sometimes, because I once belonged to the working-classes myself. I lost my money on Pinkipo; but tell Emily Gibbs that I have since come into a fortune owing to the death of an old and rich friend. May the same thing happen to the lot of you some day. God bless you all, my children, even Emily Gibbs, and good luck to the old jimpurium.

Always yours,

JACQUELINE GREY."

This came to the ears of Mr. Dell. Mr. Dell was thoughtful. Trade was bad. When he discharged Jacqueline he had confidently anticipated she would be back in two or three weeks asking to be taken on again. Mr. Dell was ready to take her on again—on his own conditions.

On the afternoon of the same day Jacqueline said good-bye to the top-floor back in Pimlico.

She had booked a modest suite at the Hotel Majestic.

She had done a little shopping. She wore a stock tailor-made from one of the best west end establishments, which had required only the slightest alteration to render it fit perfect. The hat, gloves and handbags were perfect.

That journey from Pimlico to the Majestic was for Jacqueline a triumphal procession. She was leaving the old order of things and stretching out eager arms to the new. The world for Jacqueline was beginning again.

The taxi was a chariot, whirling her onwards to a dazzling destiny. The cab was open, and the sun shone on her. Here and there a man stopped on the pavement to look at her, and she was not displeased. Jacqueline knew she was looking her best. Even the Hotel Majestic could not find fault with her tailor-made.

Once or twice on the way she examined her nose anxiously in the panel mirror, and touched it up slightly just before they came to the Majestic.

The hall porter of the Majestic did not unbend to everybody. He was a man of erudition, a multi-linguist and a person of considerable substance, who knew his worth. Jacqueline's first wishful smile vanished, and he became almost active on her behalf.

He handed her out with the air of a Raleigh. "I will see to the cab, m'am," he said, as she groped in her handbag.

He waved a commanding hand, and the tall, plate-glass paneled doors swung open before her.

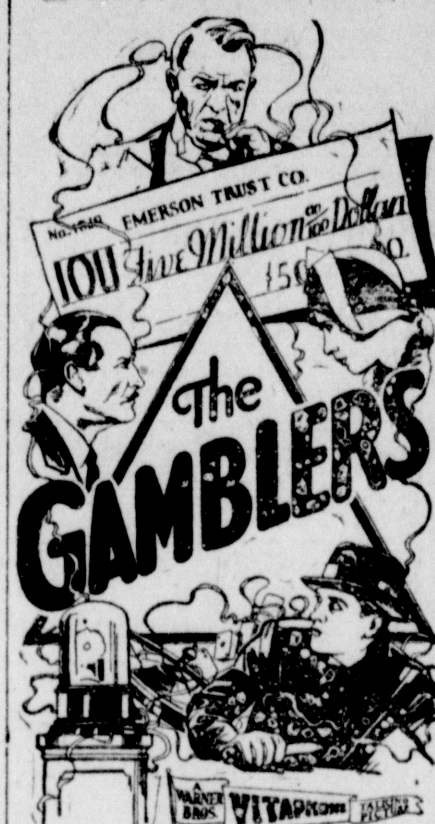

She saw before her a panorama of crimson carpet. Many people not born to magnificence had been daunted by their first glimpse of the foyer of the Majestic; but not Jacqueline. She was a little bewildered, and just the least bit con-

TIRED WHEN SHE GOT UP

Strengthened by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Paul, Minn.—"I used to be as tired when I got up in the morning as when I went to bed. I had fainting spells and palpitation. Of course it was my age. I read a Lydia E. Pinkham booklet and started taking the Vegetable Compound three times a day. I am now a well woman. Three of my neighbors know what it did for me so they are taking it. I will write to any woman if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help her as it did me. I feel like a young woman now and I thank you."—Mrs. H. C. Henry, 286 Fuller Ave., St. Paul, Minnesota.
